Episode 12: Peterson forces Anna to kill a rival executive at the Hubris Institute by threatening to put her on more intensive drugs. Anna kills the executive.

Episode 13: Anna is locked up as Peterson's influence over the company grows. The Institute's Board decides whether or not to kill Anna for the executive's death. Edward helps Anna escape from the Institute and they run off together.

Season 2:

Anna and Edward avoid capture from the Institute for a few months. They are able to assimilate into a small town where Anna sometimes finds ways to use her gifts for good.

Dom tracks them down and tries to get Anna to come back with him. When she refuses, Dom tells Anna that Edward killed Dr. Belrose--Anna's confidant from when she lived at the mental hospital.

Anna leaves Edward and goes back to the Institute with Dom. They learn that the Institute has continued their experimentation on human test subjects. Anna tries to ruin their new research but is stopped by Dom and Hazel. New scientists employed by the Institute begin a campaign to try to re-create the genetic manipulation Anna went through as a child.

Edward is captured by the Institute and tortured. He blackmails them to earn his freedom, but chooses to stay at the Institute to earn back Anna's trust. The government takes over the Institute, steals their research, and tries to have Anna killed. Edward flees with Dom and Anna. Hazel is killed in the raid.
